

CORONA

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the English language. It is argued that the study of the history of the English language is not only a matter of academic interest, but also a matter of practical importance. The study of the history of the English language can help us to understand the development of the English language and to identify the factors that have influenced its development. This can be useful in a number of ways, including in the field of linguistics, in the field of literature, and in the field of education.

HAPPINESS... IS A CORONA PANTHER.

HAPPINESS is a light, cheery, exhilarating emotion which springs into being in an instant, to warm a heart or to brighten a life. With sparkling effervescence, happiness bubbles gaily and joyously in many experiences of life.

In our everyday life at Corona Senior High School, we have had many pleasant experiences which have given us innumerable expressions of happiness. These happy experiences are highlighted on the pages of this 1964 CORONAL.

These moments of happiness, whether they be a Panther pep rally, a sports victory, the magic enchantment of a special evening, an inspirational word from a teacher, or merely the smiling face of a friend, we have tried to capture as reminders of an enjoyable year at Corona Senior High School.

We, the 1964 CORONAL staff, are proud to present to you the 1964 CORONAL and its theme, "HAPPINESS."

"Happiness," as defined by renowned cartoonist Charles M. Schultz, "is one thing to one person and another thing to another person."

We sincerely hope that you will find your own special interpretations of happiness as you turn these, the pages of your 1964 CORONAL.

DEDICATION

A life of education, administration, and dedication to the teaching of young minds describes the fruitful life of Mr. C. Finis Frazier, Corona Senior High School teacher and counselor. In his many years in the field of education, Mr. Frazier has compiled a brilliant record of achievement and service.

Mr. Frazier's biography began in the town of Cameron, Missouri, where he was born, raised, and educated. He attended Missouri Wesleyan College and the University of Wisconsin, where he earned his Master's Degree.

Robinson, Kansas, saw Mr. Frazier in the capacity of high school principal, which he held for fifteen years. He eventually returned to his home town, Cameron, to the position of Superintendent of Schools, a responsibility he met for six years.

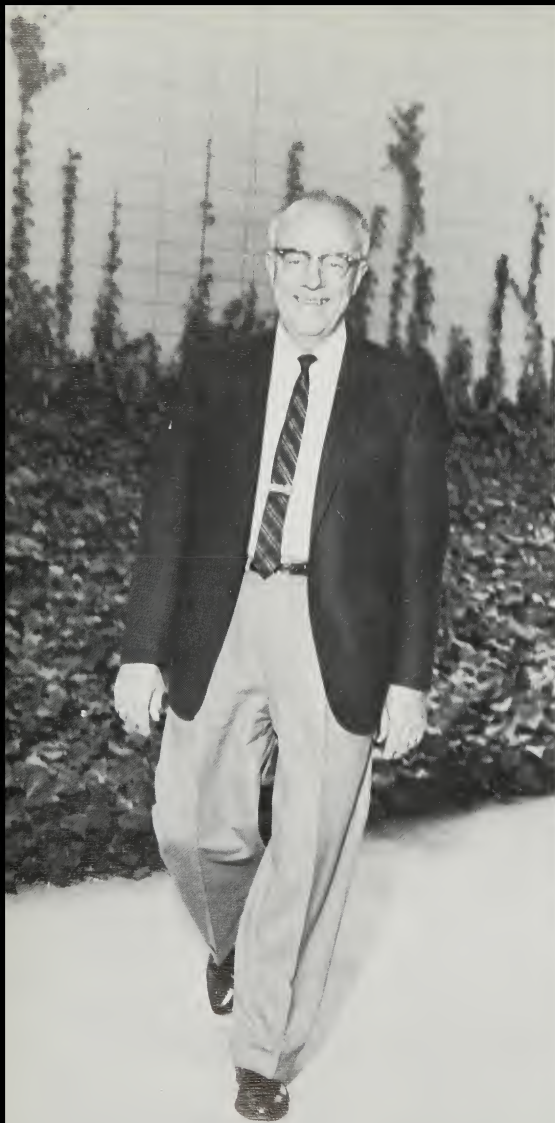

In 1944, Mr. Frazier came to Corona, accepting the principalship of Corona Senior High School. He served Corona as principal for nine years; his was a smooth, efficient administration, one which inspired a fellow teacher to acclaim him "a genius at organization!"

A heart attack suffered in 1953 caused Mr. Frazier to request a transfer to a less strenuous position of responsibility. He then took up the reins as head of the Counseling Department, in addition to teaching classes in psychology.

Mr. Frazier retained the head position in the Counseling Department until this year; for this, his final year at Corona High, he has undertaken the service of Senior Class Counselor. Also under his jurisdiction have been all testing and scholarship arrangements.

Mr. Frazier has always held a high degree of faith and trust in all his students. The highest goal which we Panther students may hope to achieve will be living up to the supreme faith this great person has seen fit to place in us.

For these many, many reasons, therefore, and with sincerest appreciation, respect, and love, we dedicate this yearbook, the 1964 CORONAL, to Mr. C. Finis Frazier.

PRINCIPAL

MR. PHILIP J. DONOHUE

Students:

Permit me to congratulate you on your purchase of the Coronet for 1964. You have received a pictorial record, which will become invaluable as the years pass, of your days at Corona Senior High School. In the distant future you will again thumb through these slick pages, noting a friend's face here and an old buddy's there. Fond memories will come to you of all those wonderful activities in which you participated. Little incidents that have faded from your mind will be recalled and you will re-live situations once again. You will think, "Oh Corona High wasn't so bad after all."

Your Coronet staff and sponsors are to be complimented for doing an outstanding piece of organization on this book. The long hours of labor paid off.

Nice work, Staff!

CLASS OF 1964

The Big Wheels of 1964 made their last year at Corona Senior High School a year of progress, accomplishment, and fun. All Senior Class officers and board members took part in doing their share to make 1963-64 an unforgettable year. Homecoming was a special time to remember for the seniors, winning first place with their float, entitled "Eat the Eagles," and watching Kris Ganahl crowned Corona High's first Homecoming Queen. The class council coordinated the food booth and dance for the Corona-Montclair football game, and planned an early spring money-making project which proved to be very successful. As their last weeks at Corona High came to a close, the Seniors attended the Junior-Senior Prom, the Senior Breakfast, Senior Activities Days, the Senior Dinner-Dance, baccalaureate services, and, at last, graduation ceremonies. As the Class of 1964 leaves Corona High, they will look to the future with ambition and enthusiasm, but they will also look back to Corona High, remembering their hopes, their dreams, and the happiness they found there.

CLASS OF 1965

The Juniors, as the second most important class, have undertaken a number of responsibilities and activities in preparation for their year as Big Wheels. The class officers and board began the school year by sponsoring the food booth and dance for the Corona-Bonita game. Next they presented the Junior Class float, labeled "Ex-terminate Eisenhower," for the Homecoming parade. A money-making project proved to be successful as the next junior activity. The biggest contribution made by the Junior Class to Corona High life was the Junior-Senior Prom, in May. Rounding out the year, the juniors ushered for both the baccalaureate and graduation programs. Next year, the Junior Class of this year will take over the reins of leadership from the Class of 1964; this year has shown itself to be a valuable year of achievement and preparation for the Class of 1965 toward this goal.

CLASS OF 1966

The Sophomore Class has worked hard, during this, their first year at Corona Senior High School, to become fully-active members of the C.H.S. student body. At the beginning of the school year, the sophs voted for their class officers, and elected an all-girl board to lead them. The first activity undertaken by the class was the sponsoring of a food booth and a post-game dance for the Corona-Rubidoux football game. They next entered a float in the annual Homecoming parade; the float, an actual fire engine, was judged third in competition. The class council voted early in the year to stage a money-making project, a Christmas tree sale, which was held during December, and which netted a sizable amount for the class treasury. For one of the last activities of the year, the Sophomore Class undertook the responsibility for decorating arrangements at the Senior Class baccalaureate. As they look forward to becoming juniors, this year's sophomores can reflect upon a year of initiative and action, a year which saw the Class of 1966 prove themselves to be real members of the Corona Panther family.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The officers of the 1963-1964 Associated Student Body of Corona High accepted a great challenge and a major responsibility this year. These students, with the guidance of Mr. Ramirez and Mr. Vaughn, as sponsors, formed a special Constitution Committee for the purpose of completely rewriting and revising the existing, outdated constitution of Corona High.

Joining the elected ASB officers were the three class presidents and a representative at large. These students met during a special leadership class during the day and often at night in order to present their constitution project to the student body before the annual ASB elections for 1964-1965 officers.

RATING TEAM

The rating team, captained by Larry Prielipp, judged each fellow TCL school on sportsmanship exhibited during athletic events. In addition, these seniors encouraged good sportsmanship on the part of Corona High students.

SECONDARY SCHOOL CONFERENCE

The annual Secondary School Conference at Palm Springs was attended by a record thirty-three C.H.S. students. Heading the delegation was Marilyn Switzer, senior, who led Corona's discussion group on the topic "Using the School Library."

BOYS' AND GIRLS' STATE

Boys' State and Girls' State are two annual summer activities sponsored by the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary for the purpose of educating high school students in the purposes and processes of government. These civic programs offer practical participation in model functions of city, county, and state governments.

Janet Rudd attended the 1963 convention of Girls'

State, which was held June 17-25 at the University of California at Davis. Delegates to Boys' State, which took place June 22-29 on the California State Fairgrounds in Sacramento, were David Aguayo, Roy Bolton, and Herman Seidman.

In addition to daily governmental functions, these Boys' and Girls' Staters toured many of the offices of the state capitol in Sacramento.

Marilyn Switzer, American Abroad

In the summer following her junior year, Marilyn Switzer became Corona High's first American Abroad under the program of that name sponsored by the American Field Service. Marilyn spent three months learning about others in the little town of Meilen, Switzerland.

During her stay in Switzerland, Marilyn was "adopted" by the Karl Kym family, who accepted her wholeheartedly into the fellowship of their home. The Kym's remained constantly eager to make Marilyn's Swiss visit a memorable one and sought to be of assistance to her in every new problem she encountered.

Marilyn's activities during the summer included family outings, attending Swiss school sessions, and keeping house with her "mother". Her sightseeing included beautiful daily views of blue Lake Zurich, spacious green meadows, and the white, snow-covered Swiss Alps. On her return trip to America, she also visited France, Germany, Austria, and Liechtenstein.

During her experiences as an American Abroad, Marilyn discovered that, in her own words, "people are all alike; only customs and traditions make them

AMERICAN FIELD

The Corona High student chapter of the American Field Service worked hard in 1963-64 to create interest and support for the foreign exchange program underway in this community. Janet Rudd, as this year's president, co-ordinated club meetings at least twice a month, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Arnold and Miss Bill.

Working closely with the adult A.F.S. Chapter, the twenty members of the campus club earned money through the sale of baked goods, yarn dolls, and A.F.S. shares; and participated in assemblies and various activities such as the International Banquet. The A.F.S. Club also remained a special host during the year to Francy Tanthana, Corona High's exchange student from Thailand.

different." Marilyn, like many other young people of the world, learned the teachings of friendship and brotherhood as expressed in the purposes of the American Field Service, and those timeless lessons will surely continue to enrich her life, making hers a happy one — long vocation of love and concern for the lives of her fellow man.

SERVICE

Francy Tanthana, A.F.S. Student

Corona High was privileged this year to welcome into its student body Miss Monthana Tanthana, eighteen-year-old American Field Service exchange student from Bangkok, Thailand. "Francy," as she soon became known, lived and studied for a year as Corona's second A.F.S. student.

Although at first a bit apprehensive about her stay in America, Francy soon adjusted to Corona life, and the Circle City in return accepted her with delight and with friendship. At school, she became active in A.F.S., G.R.A., Pantherettes, and Girls' League. Her community responsibilities included speaking engagements before the local A.F.S. Chapter and other organizations.

Throughout her stay here, Francy has continually radiated gentle virtues of friendship, sincerity, kindness, modesty, generosity, and courtesy. She has warmed the hearts of all who have known her, with a glowing personality and a happy smile. More than anything, Francy has shown to Corona a shining example of the necessity and possibility of friendship between peoples of different nations.

Francy truly exemplifies the unique individualism of a foreign neighbor, but at the same time, also personifies the true oneness and sameness of people throughout the world. As she soon returns to her native Thailand, Francy will carry with her many memories of international friendship, as well as the best wishes of Corona Senior High School for a useful life of continued beauty and great happiness.

Mr. Baughman

Mr. Vaughn
Advisor

The 1964 CORONAL staff spent a busy seven months creating this year's yearbook for the students of Corona High. The staff met, under the editorship of John Wiles, every morning during the first period and many times after school and at night in order to meet production deadlines.

During the first part of the year, various members of the staff worked in the office selling subscriptions. As part of their CORONAL sales promotion, the staff sponsored a special "Happy Week," during which Elaine Chapin, a senior, was named "Happiest Student" at Corona High.

Much talent and hard work went into the creation of each page, the composition of each picture, and the writing of every line of copy in the annual. The thirteen members of the CORONAL staff were assisted in production of the yearbook by Mr. Baughman, advisor. Mr. Vaughn served in the capacity of financial advisor.

PANTHERETTES

The Pantherettes worked closely with the Rooters' Club Board in promoting school spirit throughout the year. The sixty members of this organization met Wednesday mornings at 7:30 a.m. to discuss and plan their activities.

Numerous service projects were undertaken by the Pantherettes, in addition to a Christmas breakfast, an A.F.S. Benefit Style Show, and the annual Pantherettes potluck installation. Girls in red Pantherette tops could also be seen selling programs at home football games and providing many other services for the panther campus. Marilyn Switzer and Mrs. Doss served the club as president and sponsor, respectively.

The Key Club, a boys' service club sponsored by Kiwanis International, planned an active year of service under the influence of Bruce Gundlach, president, and Mr. Sakey and Mr. Rybicki, sponsors. Meeting the first and third Thursdays of every month, the 25 Key Clubbers planned numerous service and money-making projects.

Among their activities were a pop bottle drive, a slave auction, book cover sales, and delivery of the school's Christmas baskets. The Key Club also hosted joint meetings with fellow service clubs and with the Kiwanis Club of Corona.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y, composed of approximately thirty members, performed a number of varied services and activities. The boys began the year with a highly successful car wash and staged several other projects during the year.

Meetings were called each month by the president, Roy Bolton, who represented the club as executive officer. Sponsors for the group were Mr. Thompson and Mr. Towers.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

The purposes of the Girls' League are to be of active service to the school and to the community and to set good examples of up-standing citizenship for the girls of Corona High. The Girls' League Board, under the leadership of Ada Shreffler, president, served as co-ordinating council for the numerous activities and projects of the organization during the year.

The Girls' League continued its "Girl of the Month" recognition program, awarding corsages and the traditional necklace to eight deserving girls. The annual Hi-Jinks Ball was staged in February, the fortieth Queen of Hi-Jinks being crowned as a climax to the celebra-tion of this honored event.

Other activities executed during the 1963-64 school year in-cluded a money-making car wash, the first annual All-Girl Show, and the traditional Dad-Daughter Spaghetti Dinner. G.R.A., as it is more commonly known, is comprised of 441 girls with interest in athletic achievement. Sportsmanship on the campus and field is a characteristic stressed by Miss Hix, G.R.A. sponsor.

G.R.A. members competed successfully in T.C.L. playdays in numerous sports. During the year G.R.A. assemblies saw many girls receive their letters and trophies for their achievements. In addition to providing recreation for the girls on the campus, G.R.A. sponsored the Valentine Sock Hop in the Star Room.

Activities were climaxed at the annual G.R.A. banquet, May 7, where diners saw star athletes honored with letters and scholarships and the new officers installed.

Eddie Francis, Drum Major

The marching and concert bands, under the direction of Mr. Vaughn, are two very busy groups of musicians. The marching band gives members a strong feeling of pride in themselves, the school, and the community from working together as a unit and performing for the public. The band provided half time entertainment at football games and participated in various parades in Southern California. The Panther Band earned a fifth place among top bands at the Long Beach All Western Band Revue this fall.

The Concert band fosters the development of musical talent and contributes to the musical life of the Panther campus. The band presented its annual spring concert to an appreciative audience. Jack Graber was elected to the post of band president and served his board and electors well.

One of Corona Senior High School's most important areas of extracurricular activities has always been its Athletics Department. Through the varied opportunities for participation offered by the many different sports available, Panther students through the years have learned invaluable lessons in personal motivation, teamwork, and sportsmanship.

Corona began an active year of athletics with a rough-and-ready football team. The men of the Panther gridiron fought long and hard in every game, and received encouragement week after week from an enthusiastic band of rooters. Although Corona compiled a football record that was predominately losses, the personal efforts of individual players such as Paul Grande and Dino Ortega shone out as unforgettable examples of Panther spirit and drive.

Coinciding with football was the sport in which Corona excelled outstandingly: cross-country. The Panther harriers completed a highly victorious season, taking T.C.L. championship and placing third in C.I.F. Corona's cross-country men ran fine races and their hard work paid off in results which brought pride and honor to their school, as well as to themselves. Ever leading his teammates on to the finish line was varsity record-breaker Colin Ramsey, who climaxed his high school cross-country career by taking first place over all in the C.I.F. finals.

As the first official sports season drew to a close, Panther rooters moved indoors to cheer on an active basketball squad. Corona High's cagers this year boasted a successful season, finishing among the top teams in T.C.L. competition. The performances of seniors Terry Francoise and George Ingalls were especially inspiring as vivid examples of dedication to a chosen sport.

Wrestling drew sizeable crowds of spectators, also, as Corona High grapplers piled up victory after victory in an extremely good season. Wrestling was labeled the one sport "requiring more endurance and good physical stamina" than any other athletic event; this year's wrestlers more than met the challenge of that statement. Outstanding among the fine showings of his team-mates were those of 168-pound Mel Moyette, who pinned more than twenty opponents and who completed his junior year as fifth best wrestler in C.I.F.

The final C.H.S. sports season was one filled with numerous athletic activities, included among which was tennis. Under new coaching, this year's team racked up a fine season's record of victories. Tops among the Panther netmen were singles stars Doug Clark and Jim Bill, and doubles companions Herman Seidman and Mike Zuspan.

Corona continued its superior record in running events by scoring a superb track season. Consistently running away with nearly all possible honors in meet contests were the Panther trackmen of 1964. Considered one of the best in Corona High's history, this year's track team scored a great record of victories and added to this school's growing reputation in this sport. Among the many fine performers this year were Floyd Larsen and Roger Moody in particular, who represented Corona to the fullest extent in league, conference, and state competition.

Baseball was a very popular sport activity during the spring of 1964. Corona's team of hard-hitting horse-hiders played a good season and fought well in every game. This year's team was again highlighted by T.C.L. all-stars Tom Rothrock and Al Luginbill, who provided inspiration and encouragement for their team-mates and for their school.

Still in the formative years as an official sport of Corona High was golf. The small but scrappy team that teed off in matches this year was a promising one and held high hopes for a future in this sport for Panthers to come. Among those aiding most in the establishment of golf at C.H.S. were juniors Kevin Pazaree and Bob Mezin.

The girls of Corona High, while they participated actively as spectators, also entered zealously into varied sports activities themselves. Under the organization of the Girls' Recreation Association, the female members of the Panther student body enjoyed numerous experiences of athletic endeavor. Sports offered included tennis, basketball, speedball, hockey, volleyball, softball, gymnastics, and modern dancing. Especially noteworthy among G.R.A. girls considered to be "all-around" athletes were Caroline Colladay, Kay Colladay, Sue Gailey, Kris Ganahl, and Laura McCormick.

Looking back upon the school year 1963-64, Panthers may reflect upon a good and active year of sports activities. Many were the disappointments, the heartbreaks, and the losses; it was true. But many, also, and so much more brilliant, were the moments of pride and satisfaction, the outstanding efforts and accomplishments, and the happy experiences of Panther spirit which were the victories of Corona High.

CHOSEN Corona's first "Mr. Lucky" was George Ingalls.

PANTHER COUPLES whirl around the gym to the tune of a lively polka.

"MR. LUCKY"

The Pep Squad this year initiated the "Mr. Lucky" contest in order to select the most popular senior guy and also to earn money for their cheerleading fund. Ten senior boys were nominated and submitted to the vote of the student body.

The process of voting was unique; balloting consisted of monetary contributions, each penny counting as one vote. Each of the nine candidates had a jar into which his supporters could deposit "votes."

The guy with the most money in his jar was named "Mr. Lucky" at the annual Howdy Hop. October 13, George Ingalls was announced the 1963 "Mr. Lucky" amid the ecstatic cheers of his backers. Everyone was happy—except George, that is, who only looked embarrassed.

SOCK HOPS

Many of Corona High's clubs and organizations sponsored post-game sock hops this year. Held in the gym or in the Star Room, these dances provided opportunities to extend the Panther spirit aroused at the games.

Music was created by records, juke boxes, and dance bands alike, and dances ranged from waltz to stomp, from the "Louie-Louie" to the polka. Student participation and attendance were good, and faculty members aided in supervision.

HOMECOMING RALLY

Corona High's first festival of Homecoming was presented this year by the Rooters' Club. Celebrations were begun with a pep rally staged during last period on Friday, November 8, 1963. Highlighting the rally was the float parade competition, open to all campus organizations. Special floats not entered in judging carried the 1963 Homecoming Court and alumna Vicki Perkins, Miss Football 1962.

The Homecoming Court was presented once again during the half-time activities of the football game that night, after which over 500 students, parents, alumni, and friends gathered to witness the coronation of the Homecoming Queen at the post-game dance.

REFRESHMENTS of punch and cookies were served to thirsty dancers by ninth grade girls from Corona and Norco Junior High Schools.

SOUVENIRS of the evening were miniature Christmas packages, wrapped in red foil and silver ribbon, topped by tiny, silver ornaments, and arranged under a Christmas tree drawn against one wall.

CHRISTMAS

STUNNING FORMALS of brocade, chiffon, satin, and taffeta shared looks of admiration as they were displayed on the dance floor.

The annual Christmas Ball was presented this year on Saturday, December 21, 1963, by the Hi-Tri. Theme of the dance, which lasted from 8:00 p.m. until midnight, was "Christmas Fantasy." Approximately 250 couples were in attendance at the Ball, the first formal event of the year. Music was provided by The Illusions and decorations were done by the Art Department.

THE ILLUSIONS provided music for the dance, playing before a large, pink castle created by the Art Department.

BALL

A STATUESQUE WHITE CHRISTMAS TREE laden with shiny red ornaments was the central decoration, around which couples danced.

ENCHILADAS highlighted the delicious meal consumed by hungry girls at the Spanish-American Dinner.

SPANISH AMERICAN DINNER

The Star Room was the scene of an old hacienda on January 30, 1964, as the Spanish-American girls of Corona High hosted the annual Spanish-American Dinner. Each year the girls of the campus look forward to this Girls' League-sponsored event.

A delicious dinner of tacos, potato salad, re-fried beans, and Mexican breads was served among flowering trees and carts. As the dinner came to a close, background music gave way to a riot of entertainment. Rita Esparza, as Cantinflas, wooed the heart of senorita Vera Ortiz. Laughter was followed by sighs of admiration as Rosie Lisardo presented her original composition in song, "Chubby" Vargas, with the aid of her cohorts, returned the atmosphere to one of laughter. Entertainment was concluded with swinging skirts and smiles of "Louie-Louers."

Mary Jane Flores and her committee worked long hours to provide their guests with a memory of friends and fun.

TWO INTERNATIONAL BEAUTIES present were Miss Bill ("Miss America") and Miss Carr ("Miss Ireland").

MOST POPULAR SPOT in the Star Room was the buffet-style food table, which held delicious international dishes.

CITOYENS DE PARIS formed a queue line before the food table.

The Corona High Star Room took on the atmosphere and appearance of a miniature United Nations convention on Thursday, April 9, as more than 100 CHS language students gathered to celebrate the annual International Banquet. Mingling in a colorful display of world-wide good will were costumed representatives of China, Japan, Thailand, Tahiti, Ireland, France, Spain, Switzerland, Austria, the United States, Mexico, and ancient Rome.

The International Banquet, an annual tradition, was sponsored by the Latin Club this year, and was attended by members of Le Cercle Francais, Las Panteras, and the campus chapter of AFS. Responsibilities for food, entertainment, and decorations were shared jointly by all the clubs, in further keeping with the spirit of international cooperation exemplified by the event.

INTERNATIONAL BANQUET

ORIENTAL DOLL Janet Rudd consumed Spanish enchiladas, French bread, and American orangeade.

ANCIENT ROMANS turned out in their finest togas to be present at the gala affair.

MIKE, DICK, AND DON sang folk songs made popular by the Kingston Trio, such as "Tom Dooley," "Travelin' On," and "A Worried Man."

SENIOR CLASS

The growing nation-wide folk-singing fervor was caught up at Corona High on the evening of April 10, as the Senior Class of 1964 hosted a highly successful evening of Hootenanny fun. The lively festival of folk music took place in the CHS gym and featured a tuneful collection of fine local talent.

Hand-clapping Hootenanny spirit was radiated by a variety of performers, including many of pre-high school age, as well as members of the CHS student body and alumni. All acts were presented on a simple stage before artistic panels created by Mike McMahon. Seating was provided in the gym bleachers, although most students chose instead to settle on the crowded gym floor around the platform.

The dress was casual, the atmosphere relaxed, and the audience responsive to the contagious spirit of fun generated by the performers themselves and by the witty Masters of Ceremonies, Cliff Dorn, Larry Prielipp, and Doug Salthouse. The Hootenanny was planned and coordinated by Caroline and Kay Colleday, and netted over $550 for the Senior Class treasury fund.

PATTY AND ELAINE combined voices in a duet presentation of "Puff, the Magic Dragon," accompanied by Rex Leonard.

ALUMNUS CHET FARMER performed as half of the Chaffey College vocal combination known as "Chet and Marge."

A FEMALE QUINTET entitled "The Cotton Mill Singers" presented such familiar tunes as "Johnny Has Gone For a Soldier" and "The Battle of Jericho."

HOOTENANNY

THE TRAVELERS and THE JIM MIDGLEY TRIO combined to sing out "If I Had a Hammer."

RON HODGE, CHS junior, sang "Michael," and "All My Trials, Lord," accompanied by Chet Farmer.

A CANDELABRA was all Judy Barger needed to perfect her talented performance at the piano.

ALL-GIRL SHOW

Corona High's first All-Girl Show was presented March 19, in the CHS Star Room, by the talented female half of the Panther student body. Many acts of song and dance were included in the program, which was organized and supervised under the direction of the Girls' League and Gale Brockman, who was chairman and director of the show.

Entertainment ranged from a casual American soft shoe routine to elaborate Thai ritual dances; from light, humorous pantomimes to deep, soulful vocal selections; and from the spontaneous confusion of a new set of Beatles to the synchronized uniformity of an interpretive dance ensemble. More than two hundred students, parents, and friends attended this evening of feminine talent.

TOP: OLD SMOOTHIES Miss Vieira and Miss Carr stepped out with an ol' soft-shoe.

TOP: "EEEEK!" was the common reaction invoked among the female audience by the new CHS version of The Beatles.

BOTTOM: LATIN LOVER Cantinflas (Rita Esparza) romanced Vera Ortiz to the torrid tempo of a cha-cha-cha.

TOP: "BEST FRIENDS" Patty Miner and Elaine Chapin performed an original song-and-dance number by that name. BOTTOM: CHAIRMAN of the show and Mistress of Ceremonies was Gale Brockman.

ENJOYING Sharon Smith's antic sailor pantomime of the song "Honey Bun," from the musical "South Pacific," were these CHS girls.

"HAVEN'T HAD ANY OF THIS SINCE I WAS A BOY!"—Mr. Gibbs (Charles Lyle) anticipates his first sip of the home-made elderberry wine offered by Abby Brewster (Pat Glenn) and Martha Brewster (Pat MacIsaac).

'Arsenic and Old Lace,' a three-act comedy by Joseph Kesselring, was presented as the school play April 17 and 18 by the Associated Student Body and the Masquers of Corona High. A delightful mixture of mirth and mystery, the play dealt lightly with the complex problems involved with murder, madness, and marriage, and raised amusing questions about the extent to which the "quality of mercy" may indeed be strained.

Arsenic was one of the principal ingredients of a special, home-made elderberry wine concocted by two charitable old spinster sisters for the sole purpose of quietly conducting lonely old men to the Happier Kingdom beyond mortal life and death. Mercy, not murder, was the term employed by Abby and Martha Brewster to describe their favorite and most gratifying activity. Madness was the innocent truth their drama critic nephew soon discovered to be the basis for the "charity."

In his awkward efforts to shield his aunts from seemingly inevitable punishment by the law, Mortimer Brewster found himself on the one hand trying to commit his insane brother Teddy (who thought he was Theodore Roosevelt) as responsible for the murders, and on the other hand trying to escape being murdered himself by another brother, Jonathan (a criminally insane gangster whose face had been given a Boris Karloff resemblance through careless plastic surgery). Sprinkled throughout the complicated situation were friendly policemen whose ideas of supreme Christian kindness were characterized by the Brewster sisters; a bewildered fiancée whose plans for marital bliss were suddenly disrupted by a drama critic gone crazy; a drunken doctor with a German accent whose basic goodness of character clashed with his profound loyalty to his underworld partner; and a number of lonely old men, some of whom barely escaped the charitable combination of arsenic and old lace.

"... I'M SITTING THERE TIED UP, JUST LIKE YOU..."—Officer O'Hara (Chet Boddy) rambles on, explaining his idea for a play to captive audience Mortimer Brewster (John Wiles) and would-be murderers Jonathan Brewster (Fil Bernal), who is seated, and Dr. Einstein (Pat Powell), who bolsters his courage with a gulp of "spirits."

"WHERE COULD WE BE MARRIED—IN A HURRY !!"—Mortimer Brewster (John Wiles) finally gets around to setting the important date with his fiancée, Elaine Harper (Carol Landry).

SCHOOL PLAY

HI-JINKS BALL

The annual Hi-Jinks Ball was presented this year under an enchanting theme of "Medieval Magic." The dance, a semi-formal affair, was sponsored by the Girls' League on Saturday, February 29, from 8:30 p.m. until midnight.

Approximately 100 couples assembled in the Star Room to dance to the music of the Legends and to witness the coronation of the fortieth Queen of Hi-Jinks. Stately gothic decorations, provided by the Art Department, lent an atmosphere of royalty to the evening.

QUEEN MARILYN was crowned by last year's Hi-Jinks Queen, Linnea Weblemoe.

BROCADE AND SATIN were whirled around the dance floor by handsome-looking suits and tuxedos.

SHOES CAME OFF quietly when feet began to ache.

MEDIEVAL TUNICS were worn by the little pages, who made a pathway for the queen.

THE TRADITIONAL Black Hawk Waltz was performed by the 1964 Hi-Jinks Court and their escorts.

TOP: THE LEGENDS sounded out both fast and slow dance numbers.
RIGHT: CHECKING IN coats and purses were Pam Reisbeck, Jane Huffman, and Linda Reed.

To the seniors of 1964,

HAPPINESS IS...

- ... the class spirit that produced a first-place Homecoming float and a first-rate Hootenanny
- ... the accomplishment of initiating a new ASB Constitution
- ... leaving the assemblies first
- ... winning the Inter-Class track meet
- ... knowing you're the best class without having to fight about it
- ... having a date for the Prom (or not having a date for the Prom?)
- ... "ditching" school on Senior Activities Day
- ... holding the Senior Dinner-Dance off campus
- ... trading Senior Announcement cards
- ... trying on your cap and gown for the first time
- ... not giggling during baccalaureate ceremonies
- ... making Life Scholarship
- ... hearing your name called at the Senior Awards Assembly
- ... receiving your very own CORONAL 1964
- ... dry weather for graduation
- ... a mortarboard that doesn't push your ears out
- ... that hard-earned diploma
- ... the proud moment you change your tassel
- ... Disneyland at 5:00 a.m.
- ... becoming an alumnus of Corona Senior High School

HAPPINESS IS..

... being elected editor of the 1964 CORONAL

One full year has passed since ASB Election Day in the spring of 1963 when you, the students of Corona High, elected me to serve you as editor of the 1964 CORONAL. It has truly been a rare privilege and an honor and for this singular happiness, I sincerely thank you.

This year has been an exciting one, one filled with original ideas, outspoken opinions, and imminent deadlines. It has been a year of unforgettable experiences which I shall always treasure. This year has now passed, and the 1964 CORONAL is a completed reality.

Into the making of this CORONAL have gone the efforts and imaginations of many people. This year has been a lesson for all of us in working together as partners in one common project, with no one person entirely correct and no one person totally wrong at any time.

Now, from countless memories of long hours spent in creating the CORONAL for 1964, I would like to list the following individual characteristics of those who have inspired an emotion of happiness in moments both bright and bleak during the year. Happiness, to me, has been and always will be . . .

... Kris Ganahl's reliable assistance
... Carol Blandi's enthusiasm and her persistent optimism in the face of any and all financial crises

... Virginia Cornwell's quiet, willing dependability

... Sue Gailey's sunny smile and her cheerful, radiant congeniality

... Barbara Cunliffe's seemingly inexhaustible pep and energy

... Cathy Bowers' zany sense of humor—and her sense of responsibility

... Janet Rudd's effervescent "joie de vivre" and her immaculate lay-outs

... Jane Dannenberg's stubborn, practical determination

... Herman Seidman's initiative and his industrious independence

... June Parsley's patient perseverance and her personal words of encouragement

... Mike McMahon's fanciful, contemporary artwork

... the helpful advice and cooperation of Mr. Baughman and Mr. Vaughn

... the photographic talent of Mr. Ramos

... the invaluable support and backing of Corona High's administration and faculty

... the sympathetic understanding of Charlie Brown and the silent wisdom of Snoopy the Dog
